NEXT STEPS

Stepping away from the gym this week to step deeper into what it means to lead. Every session is full of ideas I can't wait to bring back home to help our members feel stronger, seen, and supported.

Being here reminds me why I started: to create a space where people feel good walking in and even better walking out. Learning so much to help our gym do that even better for you.

Filling my cup so I can pour more into yours. This isn't just a conference—it's a chance to pause, reflect, and grow. I'm leaving with new ways to elevate your experience and help our gym feel even more like your second home.
