01

BRAND FRAMEWORK

what is a brand framework?

In a nutshell, a brand framework is where a brand begins – it's who we are and why we exist. These elements are not to be used as words on the website or in an ad, but are a north star in guiding the choices we make for the brand – from what we offer, to how we talk about ourselves, to how we interact with members and each other.

And when done consistently across the franchise, it makes us strong, individually and as a whole.

01

BRAND FRAMEWORK

Brand Purpose

We exist to ignite self-confidence — for one and for all.

Brand Benefit

Personalized coaching that provides the best fitness, nutrition and recovery guidance accessible anytime, anywhere, proven to improve our members' health.

Brand Differentiators

- Holistic support
- Convenience redefined
- Inclusive
- Welcoming community
- Unexpected ROI

Brand Positioning

No other health and wellness brand supports people better, so that they can live healthier, happier lives.

Brand Personality

Smart

We're thoughtful and smart with everything we do. We're always learning and we want to share what we know. Making our clients smarter about their own bodies is everything to us.

Likeable

We are the brand everyone wants to hang out with. We aren't just down-to-earth and approachable; we are the life of the party and always make things more fun.

Clever

Being funny doesn't mean we're silly or goofy. We have a smart, quick wit that always makes people smile. We're careful that our humor is never mean or condescending.

Empathetic

We understand what our clients are going through because we've been there ourselves. We will always be the hand on their back.

Unconventional

We don't follow what everyone else is doing. We like who we are and that we do things our own way.

Brand Beacon

Hell Yeah!

This phrase is what we want every client to feel when they interact with our brand. It's what we want every employee to feel when they go to work. It's what we want every potential new member to say anytime they hear from us.

01

brand purpose

A brand purpose is the reason why our brand exists beyond profit. When you read it, you should feel the passion behind why we started the company in the first place.

our brand purpose

We exist to ignite self-confidence — for one and for all.

01

brand benefit

The brand benefit is the value our brand provides to our consumers. It's not a lofty statement, but it does begin to state how a brand is different. So, it's a statement that's deliberate and intentional. The best brand benefit is written clearly so that everyone working for the brand can fully and accurately communicate it to someone else.

our brand benefit

Personalized coaching that provides the best fitness, nutrition and recovery guidance accessible anytime, anywhere, proven to improve our members' health.

01

brand differentiators

Our brand differentiators are true differences our brand can talk about.

They help us communicate why someone should choose our brand over our competition.

As you create work, lean on these differentiators and use them as talking points when it makes sense.

HOLISTIC SUPPORT

Our support doesn't end with training. We also focus on body intelligence (sleep data, health metrics), nutrition and recovery (programming, injury prevention, physical therapy).

CONVENIENCE REDEFINED

Support available to members 24/7, at home, on the app, online or at any location – all over the world.

INCLUSIVE

We welcome everyone – regardless of physical and cognitive ability, fitness experience, background, lifestyle and personal identification.

WELCOMING COMMUNITY

From our smaller physical space to our accessible online world, we've created a connected, tightly knit community where clients feel at home.

UNEXPECTED ROI

We provide the best technology, equipment and support at an accessible price.

01

brand positioning

A brand positioning isn't just a statement of what we do, it's a clear and powerful statement that positions our brand among its competition.

In one sentence, it shows how we stand out from the crowd.

our brand positioning

No other health and wellness brand supports people better, so that they can live healthier, happier lives.

brand personality

This is where the fun begins. The most successful brands can identify their personality and keep it consistent across all communications.

SMART

We're thoughtful and smart with everything we do. We're always learning, and we want to share what we know. Making our clients smarter about their own bodies is everything to us.

LIKEABLE

We are the brand everyone wants to hang out with. We aren't just down-to-earth and approachable; we are the life of the party and always make things more fun.

CLEVER

Being funny doesn't mean we're silly or goofy. We have a smart, quick wit that always makes people smile. We're careful that our humor is never mean or condescending.

EMPATHETIC

We understand what our clients are going through because we've been there ourselves. We will always be the hand on their back.

UNCONVENTIONAL

We don't follow what everyone else is doing. We like who we are and that we do things our own way.

01

brand narrative

A brand narrative is simply a short story that embraces the connection between the brand and the consumer.

OUR BRAND NARRATIVE

Anytime Fitness is more than a gym. We are a supportive community making fitness, nutrition and wellness part of every day. Our approach to whole-health coaching is rooted in science and heart.

TO EMPOWER EVERY MEMBER WITH A PLAN AND GUIDANCE TO LIVE THEIR HEALTHY BEST, ANYTIME FITNESS PROVIDES:

- Personalized coaching
- Nutrition planning
- One-on-one training
- Physical therapy
- Post-workout recovery
- Modern exercise equipment

We are in this together, creating a healthy lifestyle that fulfills us as much as it fuels us.

brand audience

PRIMARY AUDIENCE

I Need a Plan

- Advice seeker
- Fitness intimidated
- Need coaching

"I don't like surprises. I need a set plan for my life, for my health. But sometimes I need help to stick to it. Regular checkups and screenings help keep me on plan."

Shared Mindset

They seek motivation

since that's the number one barrier to improving their health.

They aspire to be healthier and find living a longer life to be more rewarding than "looking good."

They are willing to spend more than our average member on training and nutrition guidance.

SECONDARY AUDIENCE

Not Right Now

- Time-pressed
- Fitness novice
- Family first, self last

"I could probably spend more time on my health — but I have so many other things going on in my life! Besides, my health is pretty good now, so why worry?"

01

core consumer insight

They've tried to get healthy many times before, ended up frustrated, skeptical of all the promises thrown their way, and are afraid to fail again.

"I'm frustrated and discouraged that I'm still not living a healthier life."

01

brand beacon

A brand beacon is the phrase that truly symbolizes the feeling people get when they have a relationship with our brand.

our brand beacon

Hell Yeah!

IS "HELL YEAH" OUR TAGLINE?

No. This is not our tagline and should not be used as one. But, feel free to use it as a hashtag, or part of copy if it makes sense.

Read about our new tagline in section 2.

Hell Yeah!

02 BRAND VOICE

brand voice

A brand voice helps give our brand personality. It's the difference between writing and creative writing. It's the difference between stating what you do and breathing life into what you do. And most important, it's the difference between someone reading your messaging and someone engaging with it.

our brand voice

- We are genuinely positive in person and through messaging.
- We are welcoming in life and in communication.
- We bring the fun. Everywhere.
- We keep it simple, so people understand the message.
- We write in a disarming way to make people feel at ease.

02 BRAND PERSONA

brand persona

A brand persona? What's that? Basically, it's a famous person – real or fictional, who best captures the spirit of your brand. It's another filter to use when creating work.

WHO IS THE BRAND PERSONA FOR ANYTIME FITNESS

Ted Lasso

HE'S NICE. He's...like, REALLY nice. And so are we. We both meet challenges with a sense of calm and kindness. When someone doesn't love us, we stay nice until they come around. And they will.

HE'S A DOSE OF POSITIVITY in a stressful world. That's us, too. People come to us at their most vulnerable. We're the positive support system they need.

HE'S EMPATHETIC when others aren't. Many of our coaches have walked in those shoes and have a kind of empathy you won't find anywhere else.

HE DEFINES CLEVER WIT. He would never talk down to you. (Unless you're on a yoga mat.) Just like us, he'll get the best out of you with a unique blend of approachable, insightful humor and warmth. And, yes, maybe a pun or two!

DO NOT use the above image of Ted Lasso anywhere, or at anytime. We don't own the rights to this image, nor are we able to verbally associate him with Anytime Fitness. He's shown here simply as a visual example of our Brand Persona and is not to be taken literally.
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5BA78pMFiDo>

brand manifesto

A brand manifesto is another way to tell our story. Often it is the script that gets turned into a longer format TV commercial that launches a campaign. For us, it's another filter to put your work up against.

our brand manifesto

You wanna get real?
Scales don't measure your real worth.
Going it alone isn't a sign of strength.
Hanging a thousand-dollar talking mirror on your wall won't change how you see yourself.
You know all this.
You see the false hopes so many of us hang on to.
So do we. It stops now. And it stops here.
Starting now, we're going to do better.
And be better.
We promise to make working out work your way.
It's why we embrace every ability, every reason why and why not.
We welcome you in if you fall outside someone's definition of a "healthy weight range."
We are your place to feel healthier and live happier.
Sleep, diet, confidence, strength...however you measure it.
Our coaches and community are ready to stand by you.
We take giving you personalized help personally.

That's Anytime Fitness. That's Real AF.

brand tagline

Our tagline isn't just for a specific campaign. It is the anchor of all our marketing moving forward. Like the brand framework, think of it as a filter for the work you create. It's a fun, relevant phrase with a double meaning and it fully exemplifies the experience of our brand.

our brand tagline

That's Real AF.

WHAT IS A TAGLINE ANYWAY?

Most often, a tagline is the final message on a piece of communication. It usually lives below or near our logo, but can be used at the end of copy or even as a headline. It should live somewhere on almost everything we make. It's our "Just do it."

See page 37-38 for visual rules and examples on how to use the tagline correctly.

writing guidelines

These are the principles we all need to follow to make sure we create meaningful work. Please keep them in mind when you're writing anything for the brand.

BE CREATIVE — EVERYWHERE

Headlines aren't the only way we can be interesting and creative. Body copy is a perfect place to have some fun and be entertaining. Don't just copy and paste. Think about every word.

BE CONVERSATIONAL

Our messaging shouldn't feel one-sided or sound like it's coming from a big company. Don't be so academic or poetic that it doesn't sound real or authentic.

KEEP THE CONSUMER AT THE CENTER

Don't talk so much about ourselves that it doesn't feel relevant or inclusive. We need to dive into insights and truisms about the consumer and use them to our advantage.

TALK ABOUT DIFFERENTIATORS

Our differences make us special. We can be succinct with how we talk about differentiators and still be interesting and conversational.

INSPIRE, EDUCATE, OR EMPOWER

Make sure messaging doesn't feel flat. Don't just inform, use it to inspire, educate and empower in an intriguing way.

REMEMBER THE PERSONALITY OF THE BRAND

Use our personality traits as a filter for messaging – all messaging, from headlines to CTAs.

02 BRAND VOICE

brand headlines

Here is a sample of approved headlines we've already used in our advertising. All of these lines ladder up to the brand framework and the brand voice. They even work well with our new tagline on the end.

And if you watch "Ted Lasso," they're very Ted Lasso-y.

We don't just spot you.
We see the real you.

We believe you can — even when you don't.

Ready whenever you are. Wherever you are.

We build more than muscle here.

It's time working out worked your way.

No one else
has your back, shoulders and
legs like us.

03 LOGO AND MONOGRAM

The Anytime Fitness logo is the starting point from which the brand identity is developed. It's also the single most recognizable symbol of the brand. It is, therefore, essential that the integrity of the logo is never compromised and that it's consistently reproduced at all times without variation.

03 LOGO AND MONOGRAM

LOGO: PRIMARY

Usage

To ensure a strong brand presence, the full-color primary Anytime Fitness logo should be used whenever possible in all brand materials.

The logos on the right show the recommended choice for various backgrounds.

If someone requests a logo, provide the full-color primary version.

Note: An exterior logo signage package is available upon request.

Full Color

The full color logo is Anytime Fitness's primary logo.

Safety Area

This area is equal to the height of the "A" in "Anytime."

Minimum Size: Print

Use at a minimum width of 1 inch in smaller print items and 96 pixels for digital applications. Always maintain the logo's aspect ratio when scaling.

Minimum Size: Digital

White | Black

These logos may be used on a white or black background when applications require a mark in black or white or do not allow for full color (e.g., fax sheets, black and white copies).

Blurple

The Blurple logo may be used on a white or lightly-colored background in instances where it would add more to the overall full-color expression of an application than simply using the black or white.

03 LOGO AND MONOGRAM

LOGO: PRIMARY

Unacceptable Usage

When using the Anytime Fitness logo, please respect the following guidelines.

Do not use the logotype without the Runningman.

B

Do not resize elements independently.

C

Do not recolor the logo or use alternative colors other than those specified.

Do not skew the logo.

Do not add effects to the logo.

F

Do not modify color relationships between the Runningman and the Anytime Fitness wordmark.

G

Do not use less clear space than the minimum requirements.

H

Do not add to, subtract from or alter elements of the logo.

03 LOGO AND MONOGRAM

LOGO: SECONDARY

Usage

In cases of space constraints due to size or complexity, use the horizontal version of the logo. For example, with apparel stitching and in digital applications, such as social media graphics.

Full Color

The secondary logo should be used in full color whenever possible.

Safety Area

This area is equal to the height of the "A" in "Anytime."

Minimum Size: Print

Use at a minimum width of 1.75 inches in smaller print items and 126 pixels for digital applications. Always maintain the logo's aspect ratio when scaling.

Minimum Size: Digital

White | Black

These logos may be used on a white or black background when applications require a mark in black or white or do not allow for full color (e.g., fax sheets, black and white copies).

Blurple

The Blurple logo may be used on a white or lightly-colored background in instances where it would add more to the overall full-color expression of an application than simply using the black or white.

03 LOGO AND MONOGRAM

LOGO: SECONDARY

Unacceptable Usage

When using the Anytime Fitness secondary logo, please respect the following guidelines.

Do not use the logotype without the Runningman.

B

Do not resize elements independently.

C

Do not recolor the logo or use alternative colors other than those specified.

D

Do not skew the logo.

E

Do not add effects to the logo.

F

Do not modify color relationships between the Runningman and the Anytime Fitness wordmark.

G

Do not use less clear space than the minimum requirements.

H

Do not add to, subtract from or alter elements of the logo.

03 LOGO AND MONOGRAM

LOCK-UP WITH LOCATION

Usage

The location lock-ups include a range of breadth, including primary, secondary and Runningman versions for a range of applications.

Location-specific logo applications could include merchandise and wearables.

Location Lock-Up With Primary Logo

The examples below show the full-color primary and secondary logos with location pairings which span singular to multiple word club locations.

Location Lock-Up With Secondary Logo

Location Lock-Up With Runningman

The full-color logo is the location lock-up primary logo.

White | Black

These logos may be used on a white or black background when applications require a mark in black or white or do not allow for full color (e.g., fax sheets, black and white copies).

Blurple

The Blurple logo may be used on a white or lightly-colored background in instances where it would add more to the overall full-color expression of an application than simply using the black or white.

03 LOGO AND MONOGRAM

RUNNINGMAN

Usage

The Runningman symbol is a registered component of our logo. This image cannot be used in place of the existing full logo.

It can be used as a reinforcing branding component in addition to the use of the full logo. This could include uniforms, gym graphics, app buttons or social profile pictures.

When using the Runningman, please respect the following guidelines.

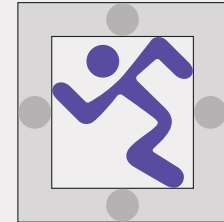

Primary and Secondary Palette

The Runningman can be applied using the primary brand colors and white, as shown below. Secondary palette application is for club interior design usage and corporate-provided assets only and with prior brand approval.

Safety Area

This area is equal to the head of the Runningman.

Minimum Size: Print

Use at a minimum width of 0.25 inches in smaller print items and 18 pixels for digital applications. Always maintain the Runningman's aspect ratio when scaling.

White

Black

Red

The Runningman may be used on a white or black background when applications require a mark in black or white or do not allow for full color (e.g., fax sheets, black and white copies).

It's explicitly forbidden to place the Runningman in black against a red background. Do not apply the Runningman in this combination.

03 LOGO AND MONOGRAM

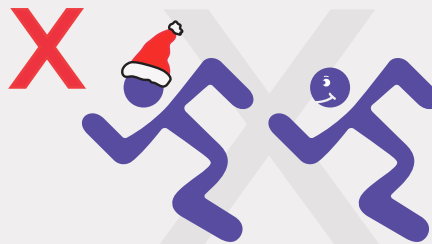

RUNNINGMAN

Unacceptable Usage

When using the Runningman independently of the logo, please respect the following guidelines.

Do not give the Runningman accessories (no facial expressions, clothing, props in his hands, hats)

B

Do not resize elements independently.

C

Do not show the Runningman in red.

Do not alter, rotate or skew the Runningman.

E

Do not add effects to the Runningman.

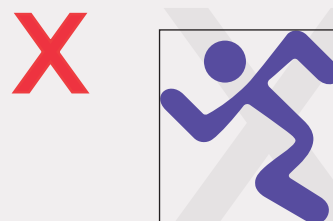

F

Do not reflect or flip the Runningman.

G

Do not use less clear space than the minimum requirements.

H

Do not modify individual color elements of the Runningman.

03

LOGO AND MONOGRAM

RUNNINGMAN

Graphic Treatment

Runningman illustrations can help provide coaching spirit, support and guidance in branded applications and the physical club environment.

Examples to the right show how the Runningman can be applied as a graphic treatment.

Do not crop the Runningman when only using one.

When expressed in action with more than one as seen below, cropping at the knee is allowed.

03 LOGO AND MONOGRAM

MONOGRAM

Usage

The Anytime Fitness monogram is a simplified, bold, shorthand version of our primary logo.

The monogram is a trademarked element that may not be used in place of the existing full logo.

It can be used as an additional branded component alongside the full logo; this could include brand collateral, uniforms, gym graphics, app buttons or social profile pictures.

Full Color

The monogram can be applied using the following colors.

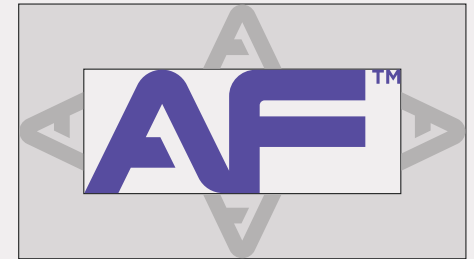

Acceptable colors:

- Neutral black
- Blurple
- White

Safety Area

This area is equal to 50% of the height of the "A" in the monogram.

Minimum Size: Print

Use at a minimum width of 0.75 inches in smaller print items and 54 pixels for digital applications. Always maintain the monogram's aspect ratio when scaling.

White

The monogram may be used on a white or black background when applications require a mark in black or white or do not allow for full color (e.g., fax sheets, black and white copies).

Black

03 LOGO AND MONOGRAM

MONOGRAM

Unacceptable Usage

When using the Anytime Fitness monogram, please respect the following guidelines.

Do not rotate the monogram unless it's within a pattern provided by Corporate.

B

Do not resize elements independently.

C

Do not recolor the monogram or use alternative colors other than those specified.

D

Do not skew the monogram.

Do not add effects to the monogram.

F

Do not alter the horizontal or vertical scaling of the monogram.

G

Do not use less clear space than the minimum requirements.

H

Do not modify individual color elements of the monogram.

03 LOGO AND MONOGRAM

TAGLINE: THAT'S REAL AF

Purpose and Usage

Our tagline is "That's Real AF." It will be with us for a long time, so it's important to protect its integrity. Please follow the rules when using it.

DO:

- use it to sign off copy
- use after a headline if it makes sense
- use before our logo in print and broadcast
- use as a design element on t-shirts and other merchandise
- use without "That's," but ONLY in headlines or copy

DON'T:

- use without "That's" on its own, as a tagline, connected to logo
- lowercase the "T" and "R," even in a line of copy
- use design lockup in a sentence, write it in whatever type the other copy is in
- use without the TM symbol unless written in a sentence, in copy

Full Color Vertical

The tagline can be applied using the following colors.

Acceptable colors:

- Neutral black
- Blue
- White

Minimum Size: Print

Use at a minimum width of 0.75 inches in smaller print items and 54 pixels for digital applications. Always maintain the tagline's aspect ratio when scaling.

Safety Area

Color Palette Overview

Blurple and its complementary accents are Anytime Fitness's primary brand color palette. There are also additional colors you can use to complement the core brand palette. It's a combination that builds on existing equity and stands out in the category. As seen below, that we've implemented a tonal stepping technique with Blurple and its accents, plus vibrant, unique secondary and tertiary colors. The stepping technique and secondary colors give us dimension, flexibility and variety. With the option of creating a non-gradient color treatment that can be used to reflect transformation, energy and motion. Note: The following pages detail color usage.

COLOR PROFILES: When considering which color profile to use for various applications, please follow these guidelines:
Use PMS and CMYK for print applications and RGB and hex colors (#XXXXXX) for digital and app usage (including Canva).

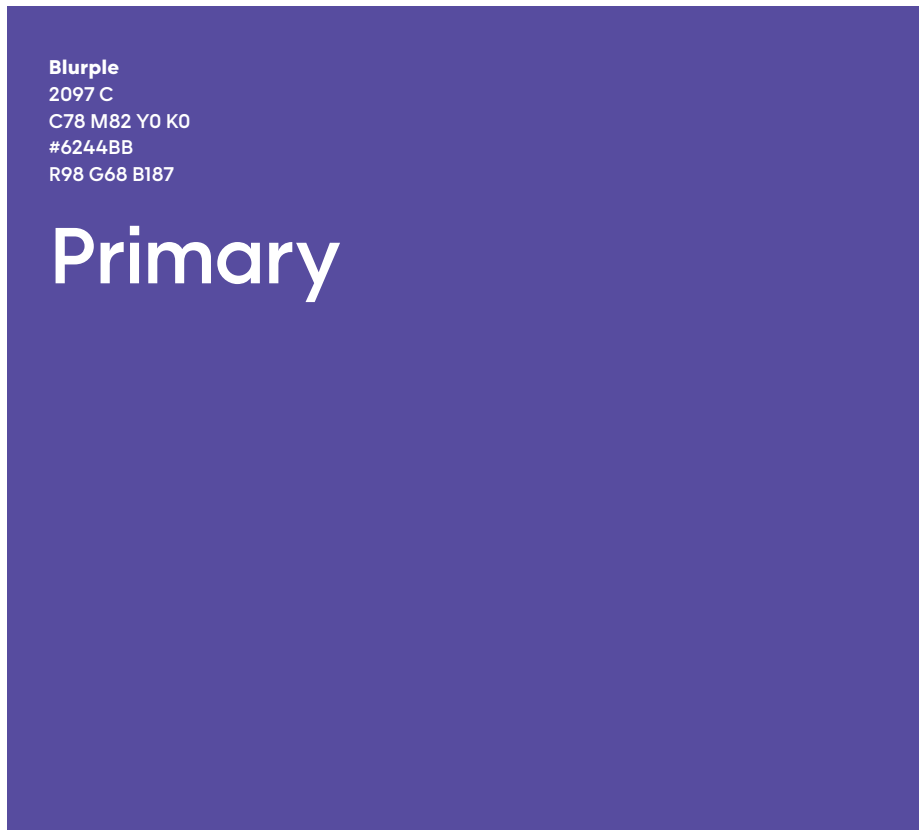

Do not use the hex color codes noted here for PowerPoint. Please see page 46 for PowerPoint-only hex codes.

PLEASE NOTE: Whenever adding color to your design in addition to Blurple, make sure you use at least three colors. Additionally, your design shouldn't feel too blue overall - like healthcare.

Color: Primary

Blurple is Anytime Fitness's primary base color for all branded materials. Blurple should ALWAYS be used as the foundational color within our overall palette.

The primary accents have been developed to complement Blurple and can be used to activate the content of layouts when set against Blurple. The palette has a tonal stepping technique that allows designers to create a non-gradient color treatment that can be used to communicate transformation, energy and motion. It also provides variety and uniqueness within the category.

Color: Secondary

Unique to the category, light blue, aqua and red complement Blurple and its accent colors. Our secondary colors pair well with our primary and tertiary colors, adding a spark of vibrancy and contrast where needed. Please use all three secondary colors in equal amounts. Note: Never use red as a stand-alone base in brand applications. Always pair red with our primary purples or light blue and aqua. When misused, red can become overpowering and decrease the presence of our primary palette.

Color Hierarchy

The chart at right shows the color percentage breakdown. When creating any branded materials, make sure the color balance follows this chart.

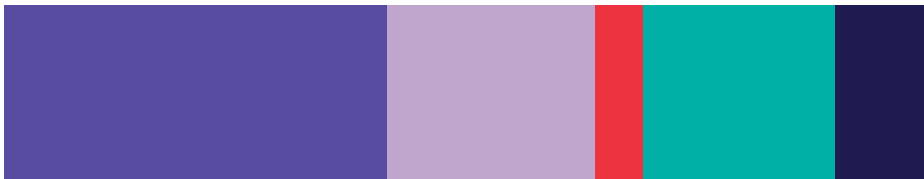

As mentioned previously, it's vital that Blurple and its corresponding accents are the foundation of all creative applications. Our secondary and tertiary hues may be applied as accents but never as a base of any material. Remember, Blurple and its accents are our key brand identifiers — next to the logo, they're our most recognizable brand elements.

5-Palette Color Collections

Some suggested 5-color collections are displayed below in their relative proportion to one another. All color collections lead with Blurple and are balanced by a secondary palette and neutral color options. Blurple is our primary base color for all branded materials and should always be the foundational color within every palette. Secondary, tertiary and neutral palettes provide contrast, balance or a pop of energy to the overall color expression. When using colors from our tertiary palette, use them sparingly and balance their energy with an abundance of hues from our primary palette and cooler tone from our secondary palette. Please do not use AF Red 032C when using tones from the tertiary palette.

Collection 1: Blurple + 254C + 032C + 3265C + 274C

Collection 2: Blurple + Violet + 032C + 274C + Cool Gray 5

Collection 3: Blurple + 2985C + 274C + 3265C + Violet

Collection 4: Blurple + 274C + 318C + 032C

Collection 5: Blurple + 032C + 2985C + 274C + Cool Gray 5

Collection 6: Blurple + 3265C + Violet + 2013C OR 2018C + 274C

Note: The colors within the collections shown above represent the overall proportion each color should play within the overall design, and in relationship to one another.

3-Palette Color Collections

The same rules apply to the 3-color collections shown below. Always use Blurple as the main, or foundational, color in whatever palette you choose.

Collection 1: Blurple + 254C + 274C + 3265C + 032C

Collection 2: Blurple + Violet + 3265C

Collection 3: Blurple + 032C + 2985C

Collection 4: Blurple + 318C + 032C

Collection 5: Blurple + 274C + 2985C

Collection 6: Blurple + 3265C + 032C

Note: The colors within the Collections shown above represent the overall proportion each color should play within the overall design, and in relationship to one another.

04 BRAND ELEMENTS

Gradients

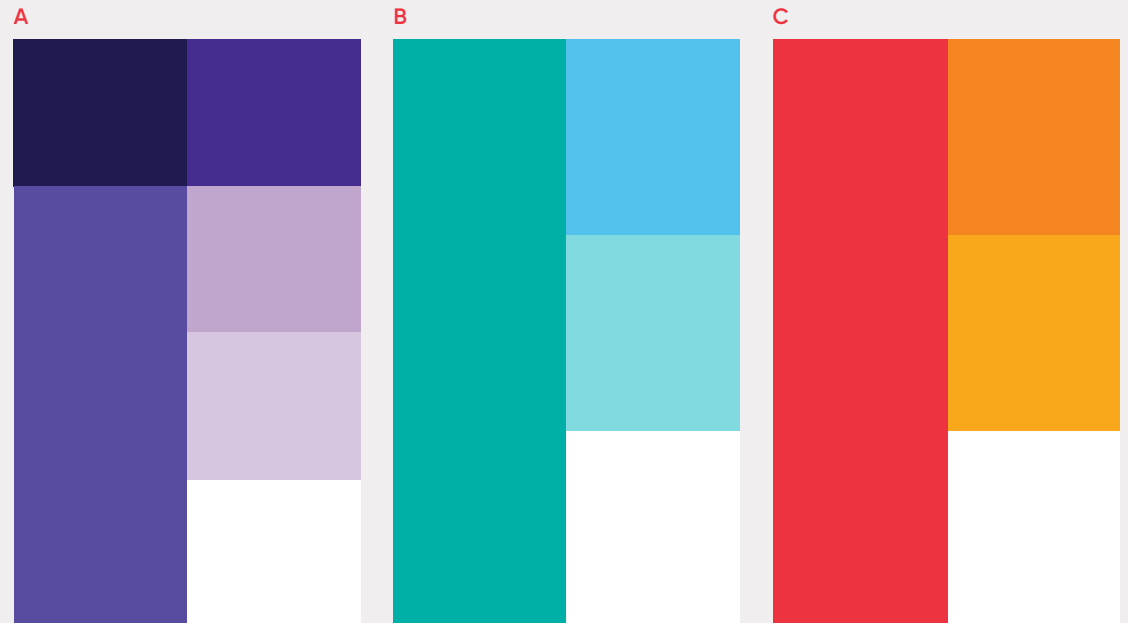

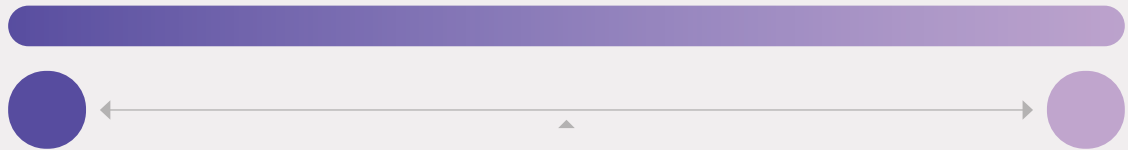

Gradients are a key element of our brand identity, providing an additional boost of energy and movement in all brand applications.

To the right is an example of a gradient applied to a pattern.

Note: Color selection is key when creating consistent gradients. Make sure you're leveraging partnering accent colors and not mixing them. An incorrect example of this would be mixing option A with option B.

New combinations must be approved by the SEB creative director to ensure brand quality and consistency.

Example Leveraging "A"

Color Accessibility

The following color combinations meet WCAG 2.1 AAA or AA guidelines for accessible text contrast in digital designs. When placing type or iconography on a background color, these examples have a contrast ratio of at least 4.5:1. This ensures inclusive branding and meets the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

Color combinations highlighted in green are cleared for use for all type sizes in digital applications.

Color combinations highlighted in yellow are cleared for use for large type sizes in digital applications.

Combinations that are not highlighted should not be used.

Typography

Typography is an essential component of our brand. An energetic, complementary family of fonts ensures consistency while offering the flexibility to create a wide breadth of combinations for all creative needs. Moon is a flexible typeface with various weights, providing a visual demonstration of transformation. Bold, modern, approachable and easy to read, Anytime Fitness's geometric sans-serif typeface also evokes the brand's energetic and approachable personality with its variety of bold and thin weights.

Type Energy Spectrum

Below is a sampling of how Moon can illustrate transformation and energy in a branded application.

Headline Type Hierarchy: Sentence Case

The following examples show how text should be treated in a sentence-case headline. Typography weight gradually goes from Bold to Regular to Light or Light to Regular to Bold for a tailored, stylized headline expression in the examples below. Decreasing or increasing typography weight depends on where the contextual emphasis falls within the headline — whether in the beginning or at the end, and is meant to visually call that out. Do NOT use one typography weight for a headline. Do NOT experiment beyond an increasing or decreasing build of typography weight.

Statement/Header Type Hierarchy: Lowercase

The following examples show how text should be treated in a short lowercase statement or header. Typography weight gradually goes from Extra Bold/Bold to Regular to Light or Light to Regular to Bold for a tailored, stylized expression in the examples below. Decreasing or increasing typography weight depends on where the contextual emphasis falls within the headline — whether in the beginning or at the end, and is meant to visually call that out. Lowercase adds friendliness and approachability to one-line statements that need emphasis. Do NOT invert typography weights. Do NOT use one typography weight for a headline or experiment beyond an increasing or decreasing build of typography weight.

04 BRAND ELEMENTS

Brand Shapes

Our brand shapes are an important and ownable element of the Anytime Fitness brand design system. Based on the Anytime Fitness logotype and the Runningman logo, the brand shapes provide a multitude of ways to divide space, encapsulate images and create dynamic patterns.

The brand shapes can be used to fit the space of your layout. These shapes can be rotated, cropped, flipped or enlarged to accommodate the needs of the layout or image.

On the right, are the letterforms we used to derive the brand shapes. To ensure brand quality and consistency do not recreate your own shapes. All shapes shown here are the official containers of the Anytime Fitness brand, any new shape containers must be approved by the SEB creative director.

04 BRAND ELEMENTS

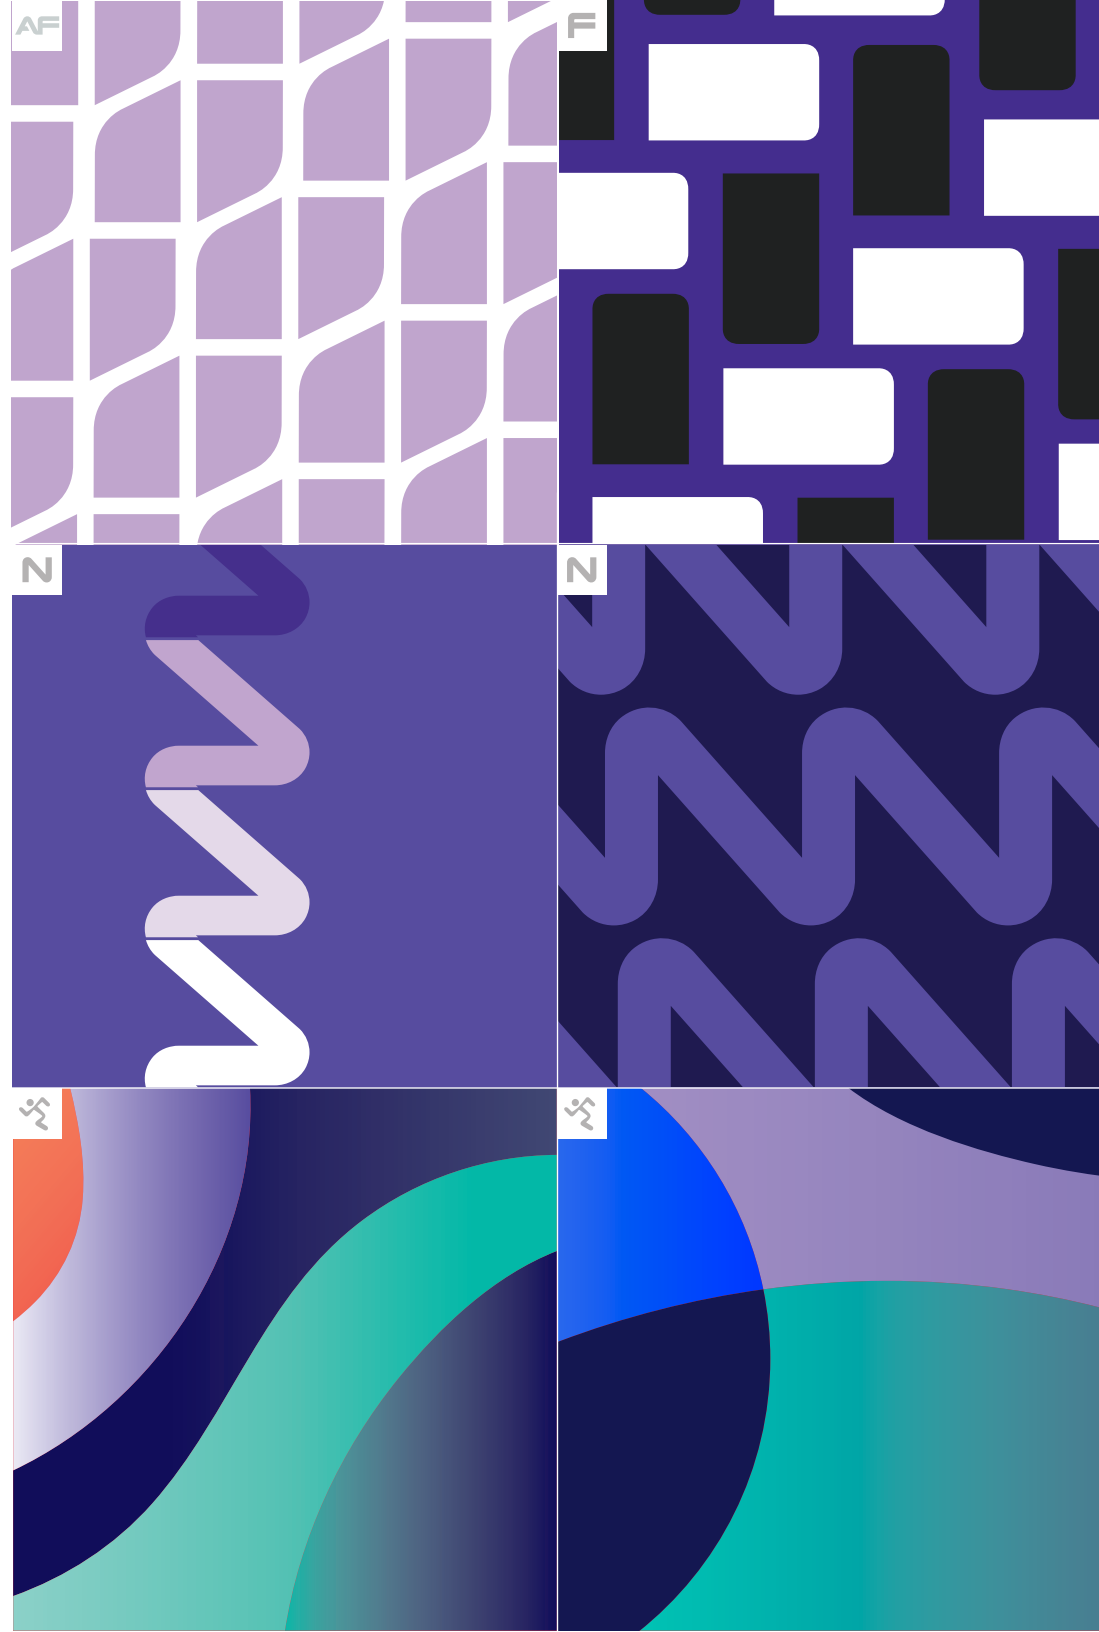

Grid Patterns

Grid patterns are an important and ownable element of the Anytime Fitness brand design system. Based on the Anytime Fitness logotype, the grid patterns provide a multitude of ways to divide space and create dynamic, energetic layouts.

Follow these rules when using grid patterns:

- + Feel free to rotate, crop, flip and enlarge to accommodate the layout
- + Use to enhance executions
- + Use singularly
- + Type may be placed over patterns provided that there's ample contrast and that it remains readable.
- + Do NOT create new patterns

These patterns have been created using the identified letterforms selected from our logo wordmark and the Runningman.

04 BRAND ELEMENTS

AF Grid Pattern

AF grid patterns are an important and ownable element of the Anytime Fitness brand design system. Based on the Anytime Fitness monogram grid patterns provide a multitude of ways to create dynamic, energetic layouts.

Follow these rules when using grid patterns:

- + Feel free to crop and size to accommodate layout
- + Use to enhance executions like stationary systems and word walls
- + Use singularly
- + Type may be placed over patterns provided that there's ample contrast and that it remains readable.
- + Do NOT create new patterns

These patterns have been created using the identified letterforms selected from our logo wordmark and the Runningman.

04 BRAND ELEMENTS

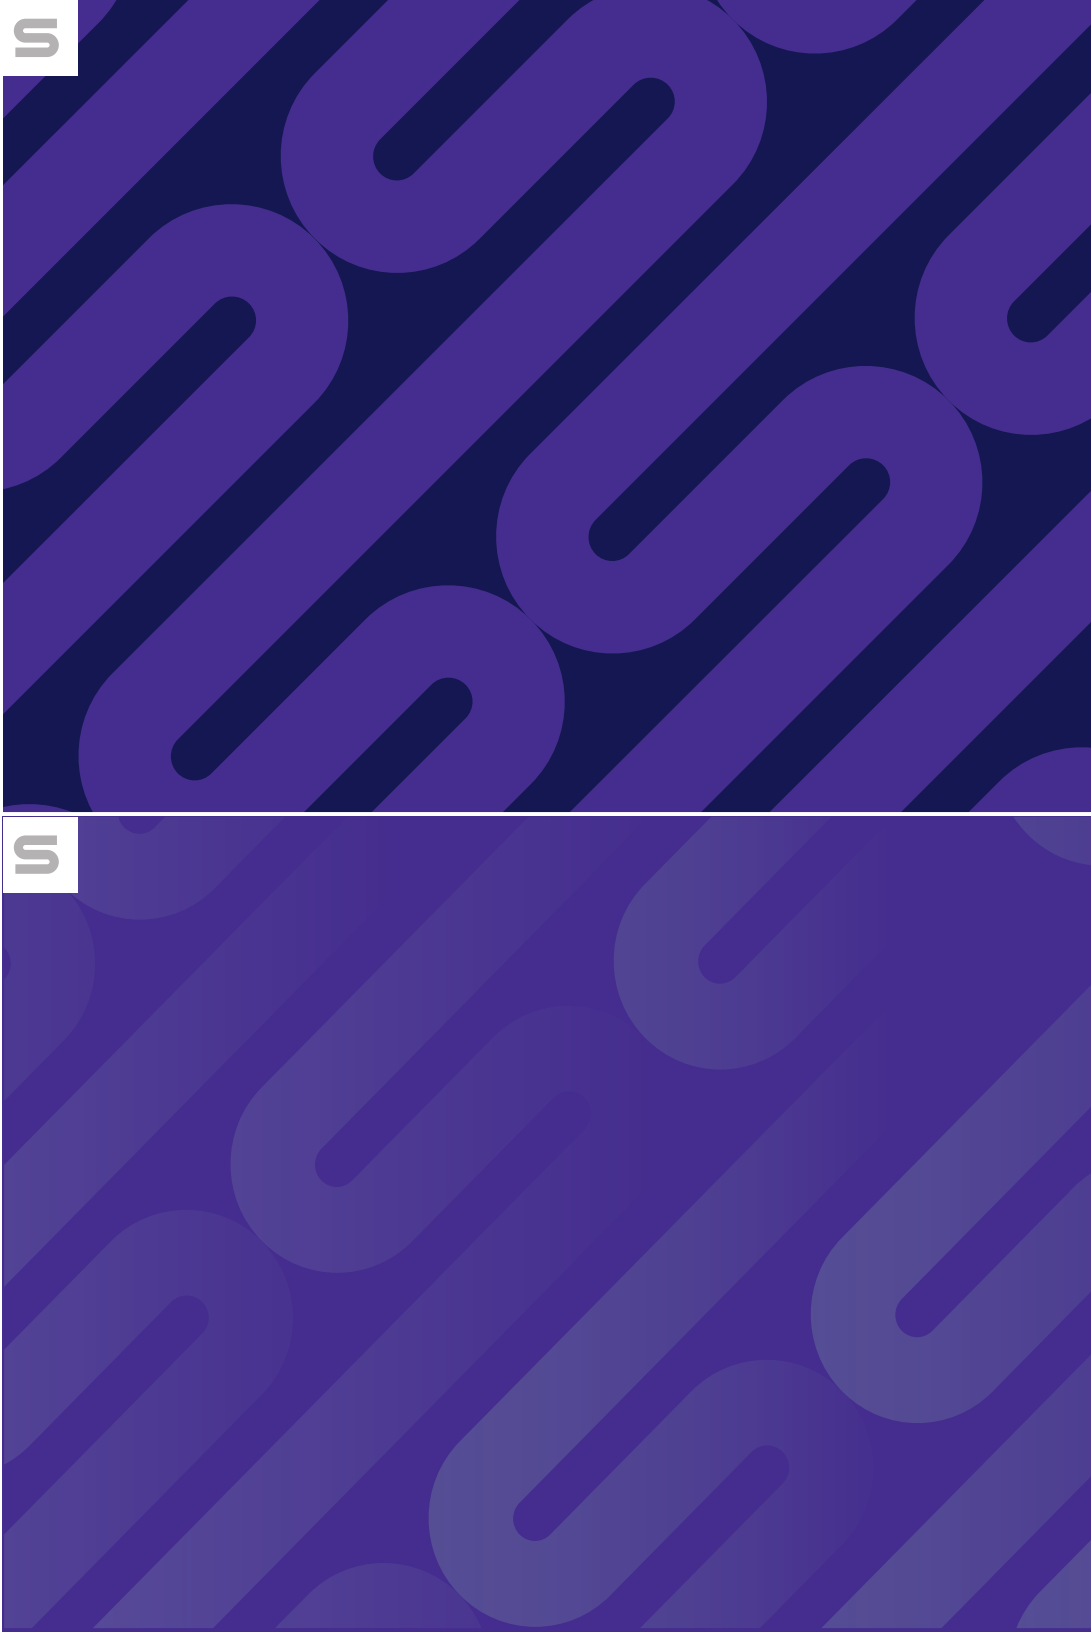

S-Pattern

The S-pattern is an important and ownable element of the Anytime Fitness brand design system. Based on the Anytime Fitness logotype, S-patterns provide a multitude of ways to divide space and create dynamic, energetic layouts.

Follow these rules when using S-patterns:

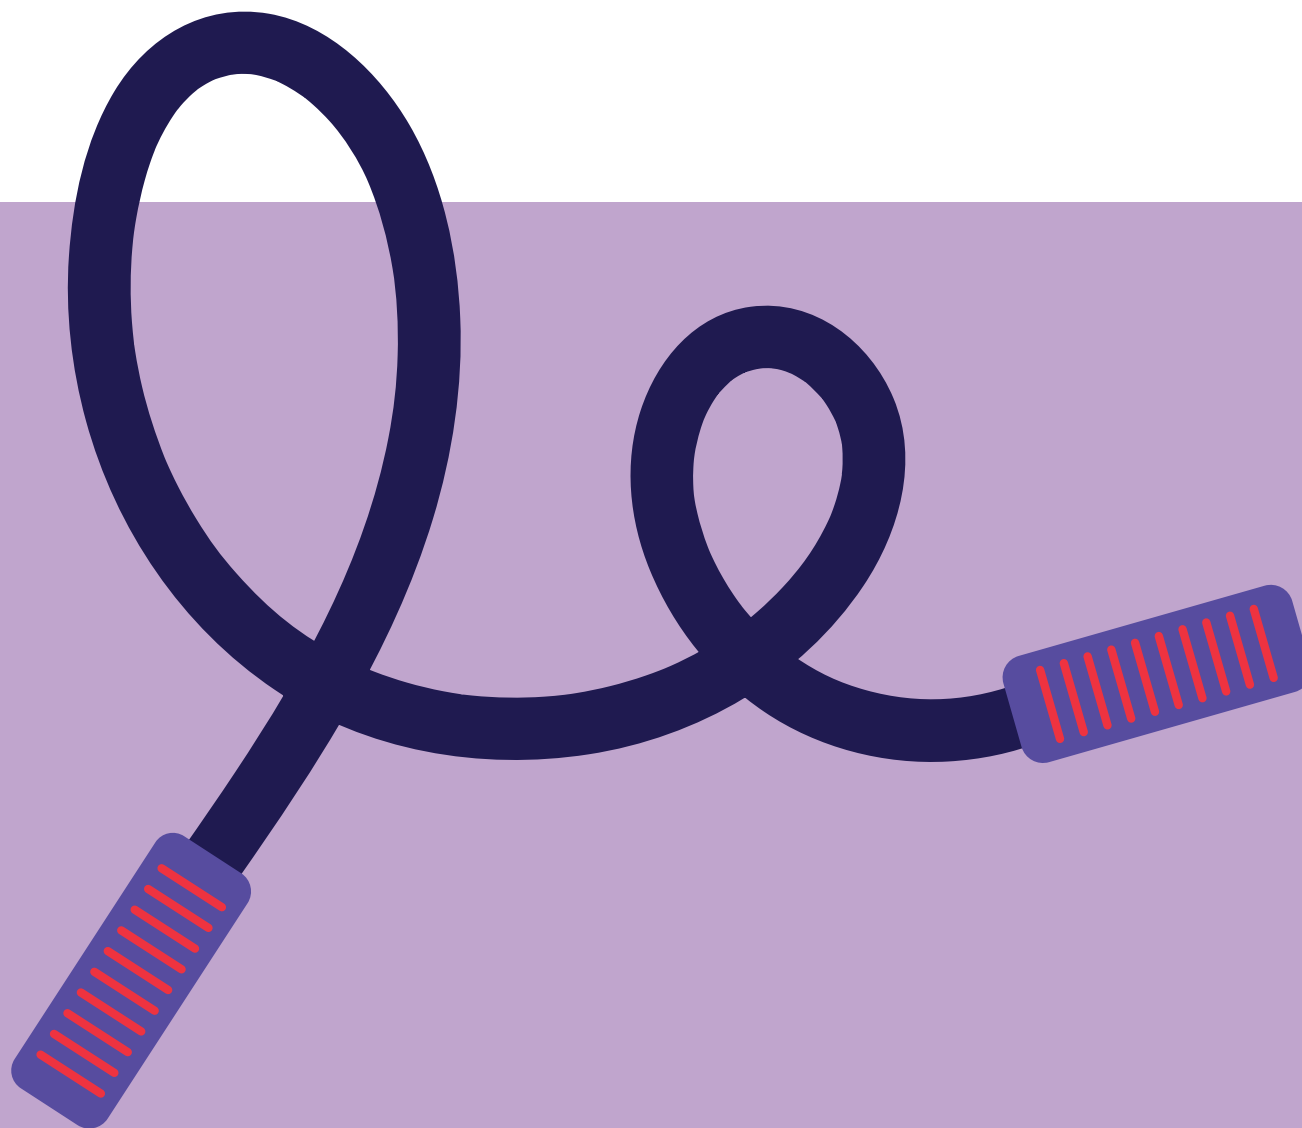

- + Feel free to rotate, crop, flip and enlarge to accommodate layout
- + Feel free to create additional patterns using this system* as needs arise
- + New patterns MUST be approved by the SEB creative director
- + Use to enhance executions like stationary work walls
- + Type may be placed over patterns provided that there's ample contrast and that it remains readable.
- + Only use singularly

*These patterns have been created using the identified letterforms selected from our logo wordmark and the Runningman.

Iconography: Tier 1

Tier 1 iconography is our most heroic and is conceptually unique to Anytime Fitness. You can use these icons at a larger and broader range of scale to provide an added boost of energy and graphic punch.

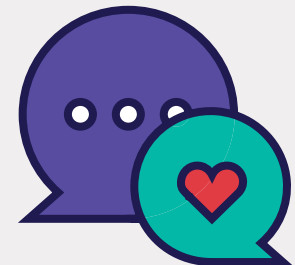

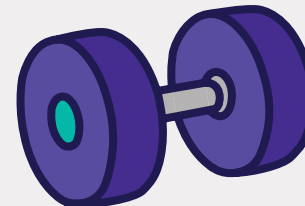

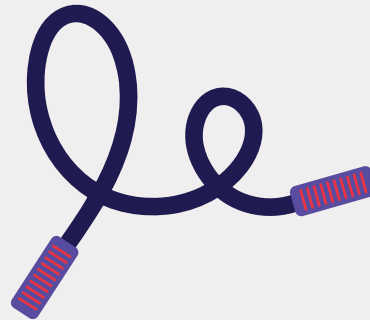

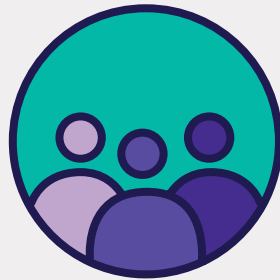

04 BRAND ELEMENTS

Iconography Family

Use tier 1 iconography to illustrate a concept and/or highlight a key message. As you can see, tier 1 iconography is colorful and illustrative. It vividly reflects our bold, transformative visual aesthetic. Note: Below is a sample icon set. Additional icon system development must be overseen by the SEB creative director.

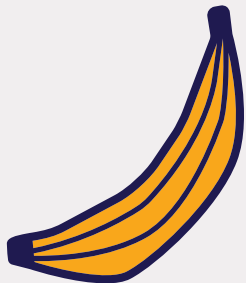

- Adds brand flavor and energy to concepts and stories
- Use separately from photography
- Multicolored, layered and detailed
- Can be used at a larger scale

brand photography

Our photography is editorial in style, in the moment and never posed. It captures in-motion energy, triumphs of all sizes and support from the in-gym experience and how that moves into an at-home healthy lifestyle. Always showing a contagious air of optimism and positivity, even during a tough workout, Anytime Fitness photography shows life through the lens of our brand personality words: smart, likeable, clever, empathetic, unconventional.

I'M YOUR
COACH
ANYTIME
FITNESS

editorial in style

We want our photography to relate to people and feel real. When choosing photography from our library, please choose images that feel editorial.

in the moment

When choosing an image from our library, consider using ones that feel like real moments relevant to our clients.

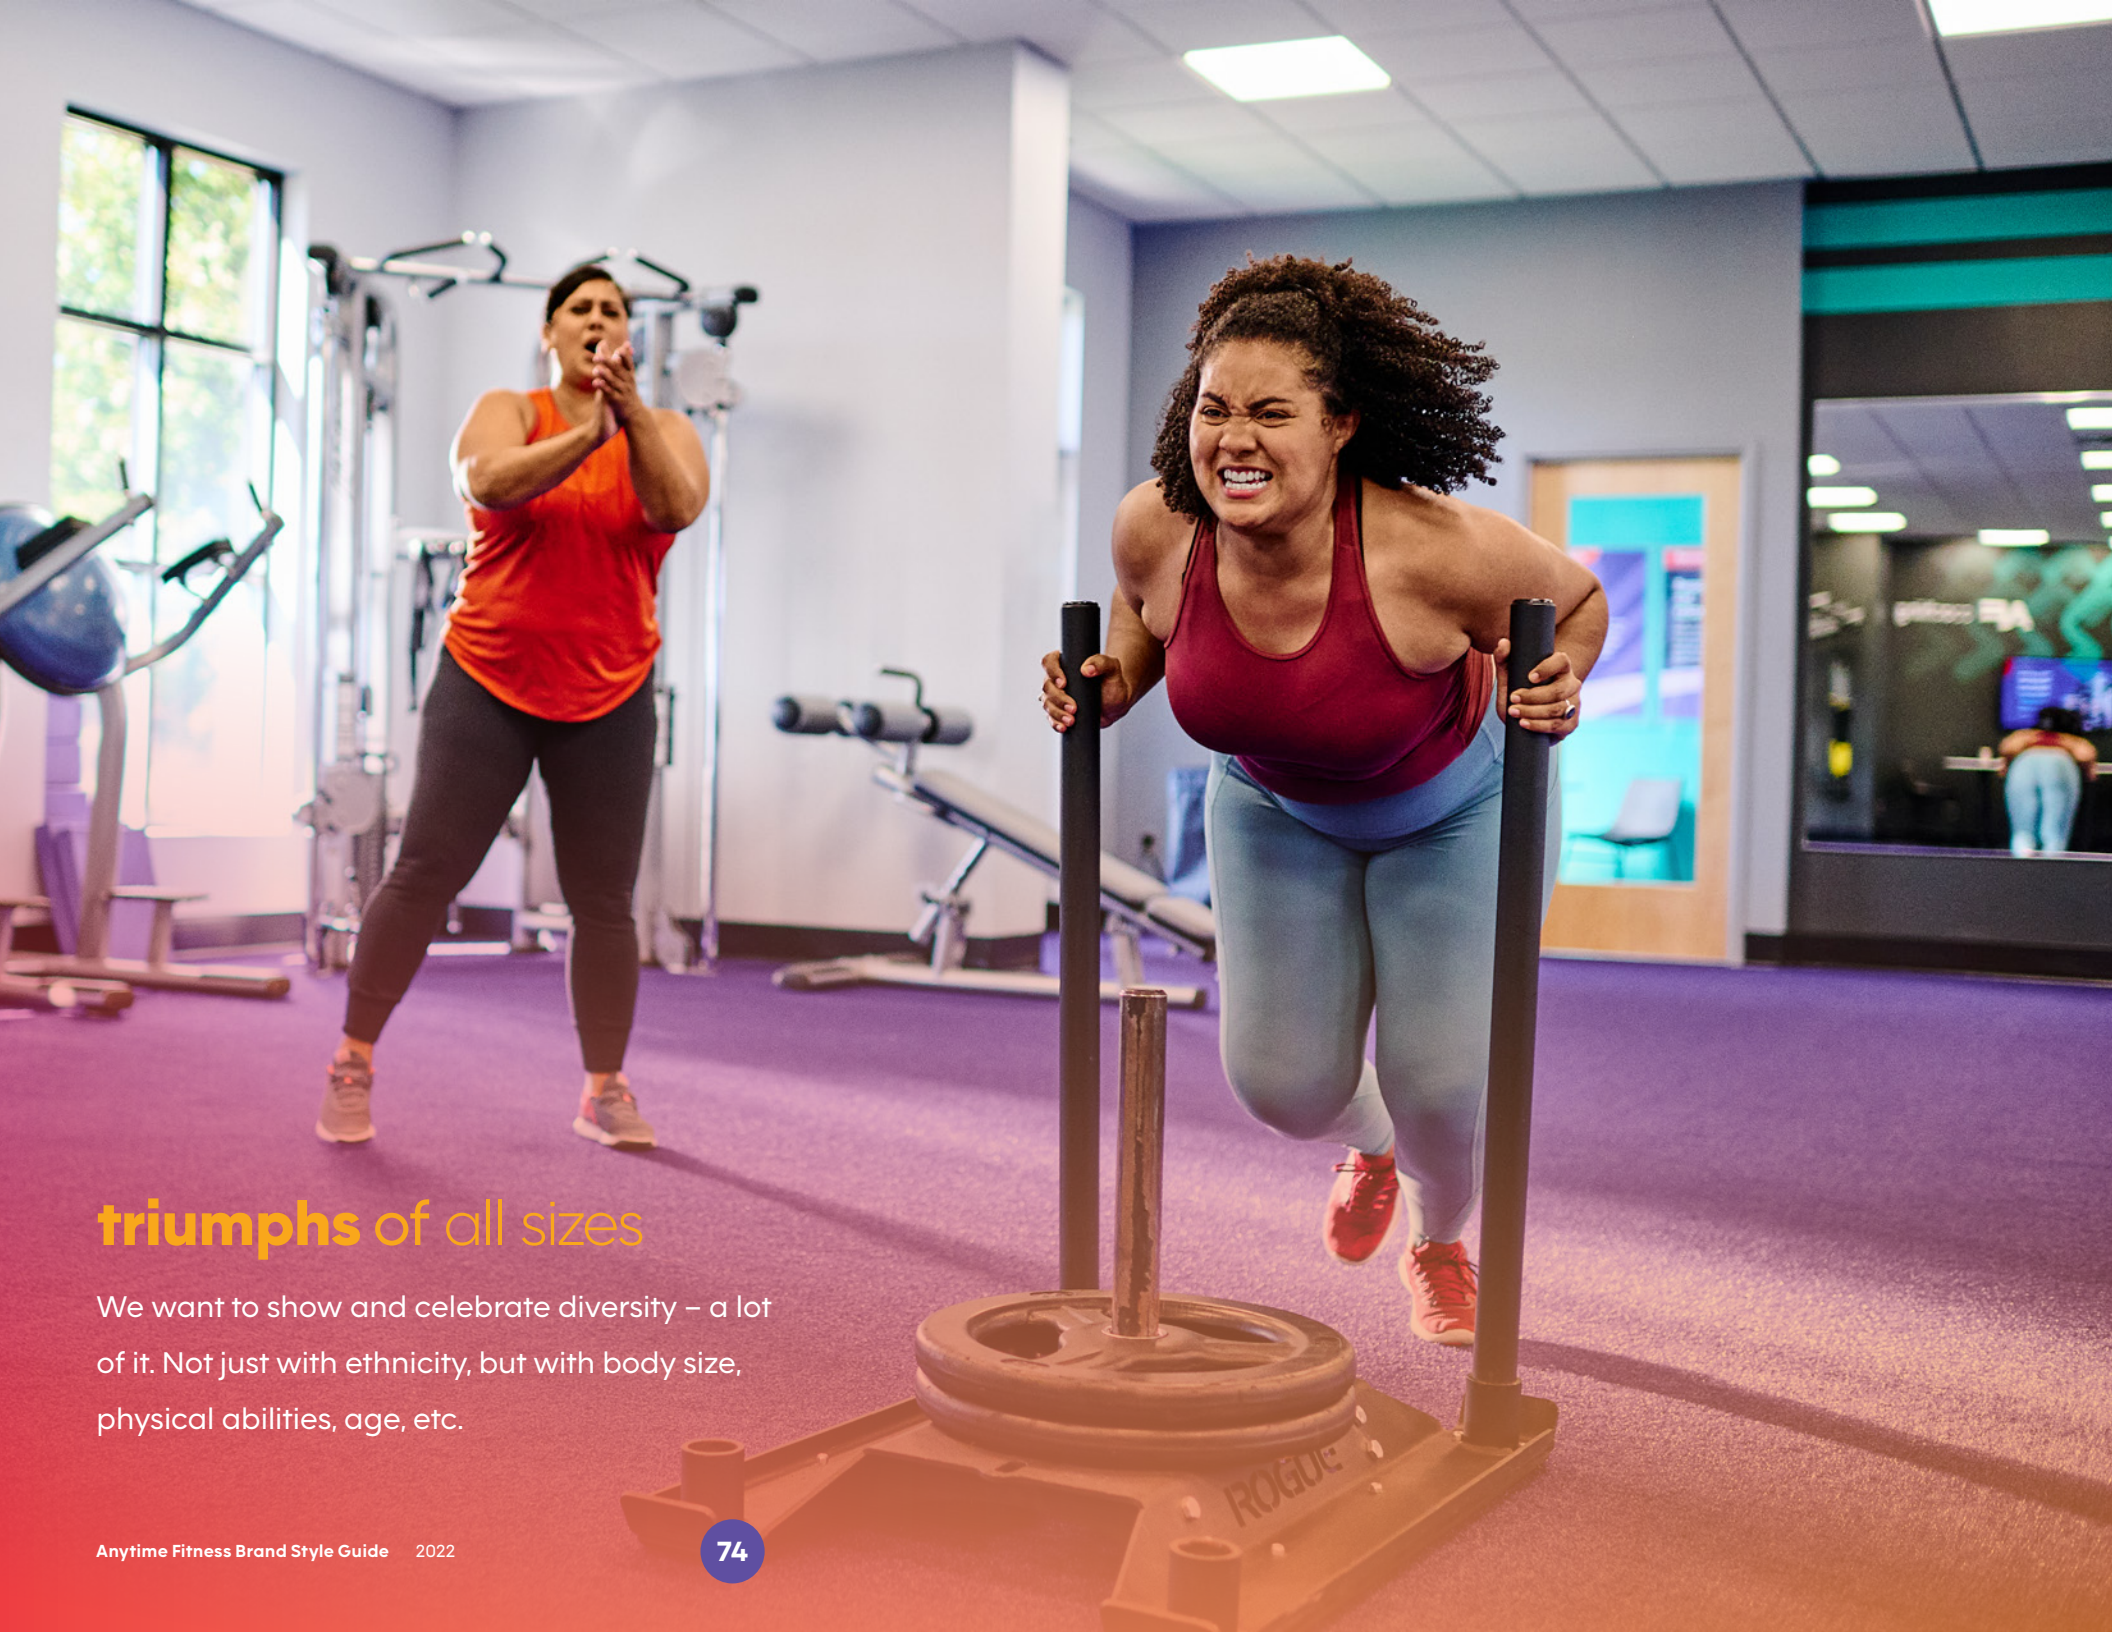

never posed

Choose images from our library that feel spontaneous and real.

in-motion energy

Avoid showing passive moments (ex: two people sitting down). Images in our library capture the energy of our brand.

triumphs of all sizes

We want to show and celebrate diversity – a lot of it. Not just with ethnicity, but with body size, physical abilities, age, etc.

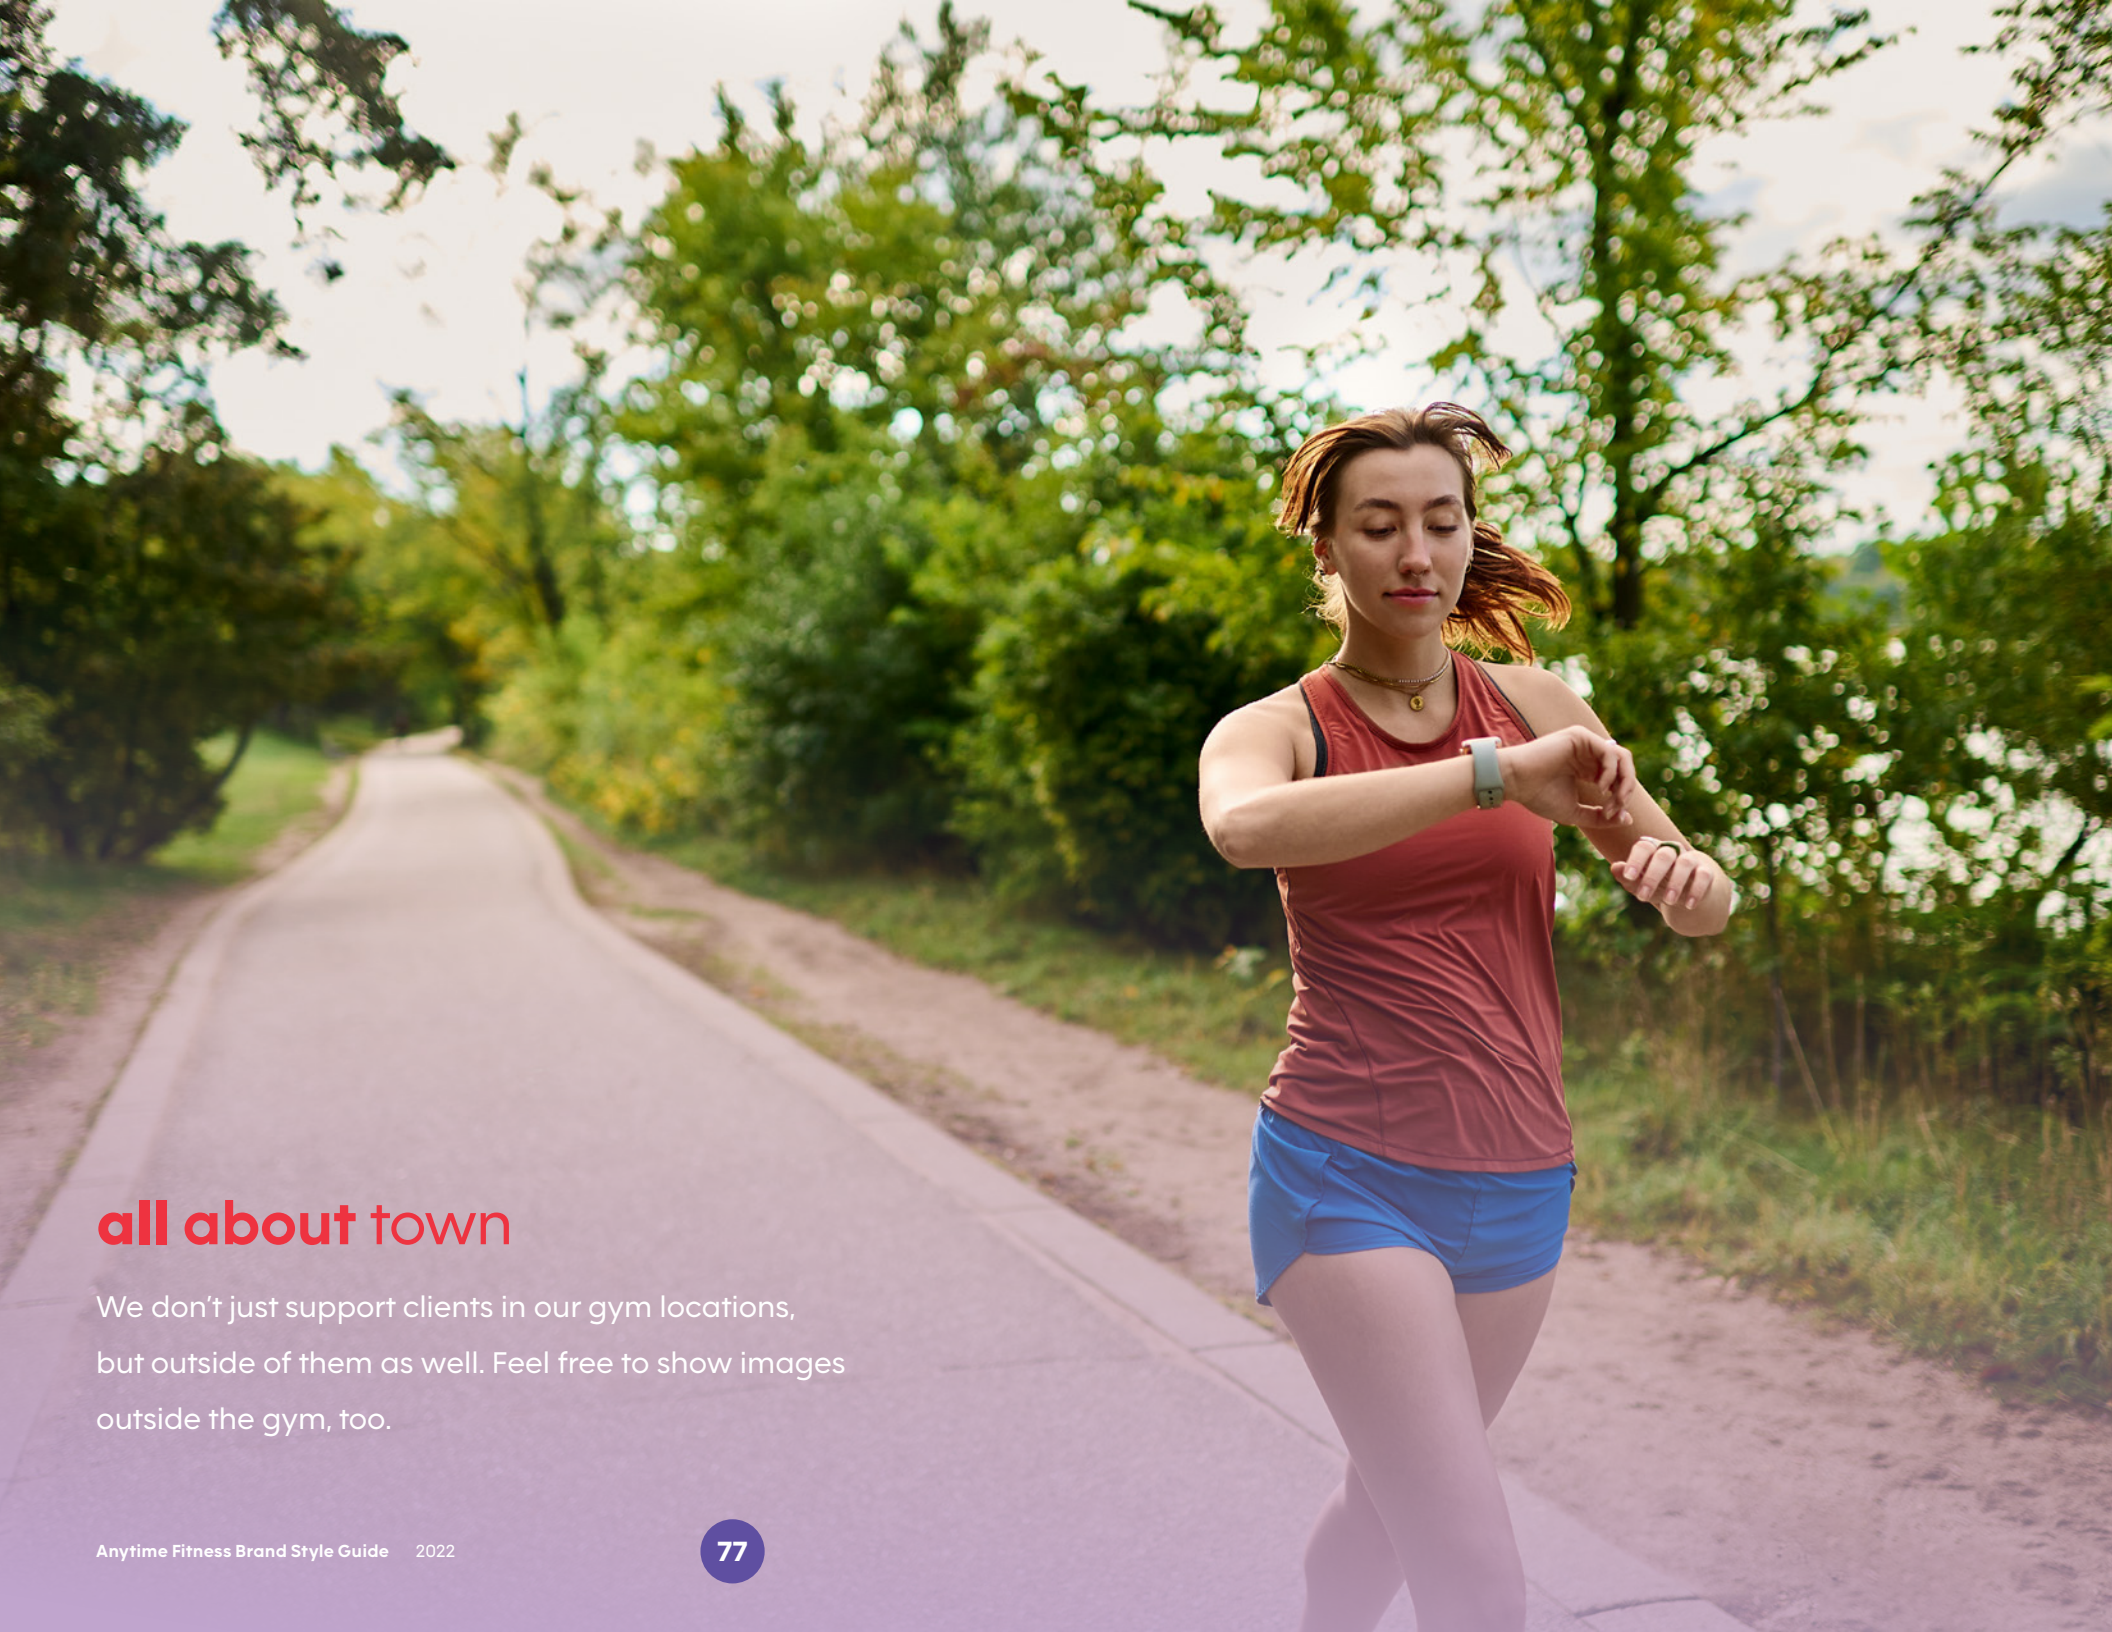

in-gym experience

While we want to show our virtual settings, don't forget to show images of inside our gyms – especially those with both client and coach.

at-home healthy

Nutritional support is important to us and we have an abundance of images in our library that show it. Feel free to use the best ones.

all about town

We don't just support clients in our gym locations, but outside of them as well. Feel free to show images outside the gym, too.

supportive coaching

Our coaches are everything to our success.

04 BRAND ELEMENTS

BRAND PHOTOGRAPHY

Usage

Apart from a brand's logo, photography is the most recognizable and differentiating element of a brand's visual expression.

The Anytime Fitness brand photography library was created with intention to bring the positivity and optimism of our member's experience into living, breathing color.

When using Anytime Fitness photography, please respect the following guidelines.

04 BRAND ELEMENTS

BRAND PHOTOGRAPHY

Primary Usage: Four-Color

The default and primary expression of the Anytime Fitness brand photography is in its provided four-color form. Our brand library has a color-enhancing treatment applied that is inherently ours, enhancing our brand recognition and consistency in application.

04 BRAND ELEMENTS

BRAND PHOTOGRAPHY

Secondary Usage: Four-Color Wash

Application of a gradated color wash is a secondary expression of the brand photography toolbox and may be used across all primary, secondary, and sparingly with tertiary brand colors as a treatment to bring an added pop of vibrancy and enhanced readability to an application. As a reminder, four-color photography is the primary and default expression.

Gradients are created and available for use by design professionals.

04 BRAND ELEMENTS

BRAND PHOTOGRAPHY

Photography Pillar I: Coaching

We want our photography to represent the different settings of coaching accessibility which is: In-person, in-gym, and virtually, outside of the gym.

Don't forget to use photography that showcases one-on-one coaching, small and large group coaching, and remote coaching. When showing remote coaching, make sure it's obvious there is device in the shot.

In-Gym: One-On-One Training

In-Gym: Small Group Training

In-Gym: eVolt

In-Gym: Remote Coaching

Virtual: At Home Coaching

Virtual: On the Go

Photography Pillar II: Diversity

Representing our inclusive community photographically is essential to translating the Anytime Fitness brand with precision. This library was created to show a strong balance of diversity (ethnicity, ability, body type, identification and age).

04 BRAND ELEMENTS

BRAND PHOTOGRAPHY

Photography Pillar III: Omnichannel

Representing the omnichannel reach of the Anytime Fitness community, coaches and tools are essential in telling our unique story and separating our points of difference from our competitors. Beyond the brick and mortar setting of our physical gym, we are omnipresent in our members' lives and in their homes with the accessibility of virtual nutrition and recovery.

04 BRAND ELEMENTS

BRAND PHOTOGRAPHY

Unacceptable Usage

In order to maintain the recognition, consistency, elevation and expression of the Anytime Fitness brand, please respect the following guidelines.

Do not use stock photography other than on the blog or when showing food.

B

Do not convert brand photography to black and white.

C

Do not convert brand photography to duotone.

Do not add effects or filters to brand photography that aren't sanctioned on the previous pages.
