TABLE OF CONTENTS

This recipe book will help you kickstart your healthy eating routine! We've included easy recipes to freshen up your weekly menus, as well as tips for putting all the pieces together and getting delicious nutrient-packed meals on the table. We know you're balancing training, recovery and nutrition, all on top of your day-to-day hustle and bustle. That's why our support doesn't end when you leave the gym.

LET'S GET STARTED

FOUR PRINCIPLES TO KEEP IN MIND AS YOU READ THIS RECIPE BOOK:

ENERGY BALANCE

The relationship between the energy taken into our bodies by calories from food and drinks compared to the energy burned by the calories expended each day.

MACRONUTRIENTS

Macronutrients (aka “macros”) are the nutrients in your food and drinks that provide you with energy and calories. The three main macronutrients are protein, carbohydrates, and fats.

MICRONUTRIENTS

Micronutrients are vitamins and minerals needed by the body. “Micro” does not mean they are any less important! They are just needed in smaller amounts than macronutrients.

HYDRATION

Hydration is a simple, accessible, and fundamental way to aid recovery, performance, and overall health.

A HEALTHIER YOU

SET YOUR GOALS

1. Try new recipes that will add excitement into your menu every week.
2. Start with what you know you can accomplish, and build on your successes!
3. Increase your nutrition know-how by preparing fresh and healthy recipes on the regular.
4. Do as much ahead of time as you can to set yourself up for success.

PLAN GUIDELINES:

We've made sure to include all of the nutrition information in each recipe so you know what you're putting in your body. Being mindful about your ENERGY BALANCE in terms of your nutrition is a habit to get into.

You'll find a breakdown of MACRONUTRIENTS on each recipe page. This shows what percentage of the total calories per serving comes from protein, carbohydrates, and fat. In general, these recipes are high-protein but also include a healthy balance of carbohydrates to keep you energized, and fats to help you absorb vitamins and minerals (micronutrients).

Did someone say MICRONUTRIENTS? Your meals will be packed with fruits, vegetables, and lean meats that provide ample vitamins and minerals, which are vital for a healthy mind and body.

Start each day with a full glass of water, and include water with every meal, snack, and workout. The strategy of pairing water with things you already do (called habit-stacking) will help you meet your HYDRATION needs. Aim for around half your body weight in ounces per day.

LET'S DO THIS!

In this healthy recipe book, you'll find meals you can make ahead, which will help you be prepared when life gets busy. Hit the grocery store to stock up on ingredients you don't already have in your kitchen. Make your shopping trip stress-free by listing out your needs beforehand.

PRE-SHOP LIST

- Select the meals you want to make this week
- Use the grocery list on the next page to list the ingredients to buy (feel free to modify ingredients to fit your preferences!)

MEALS TO MAKE AHEAD

- Easy Breakfast Burrito Casserole
- Grab-and-Go Mini Quiches
- Easy Spinach Feta & Egg Bake
- Creamy Buffalo-Chicken Salad Bowl
- Freezer-Friendly Veggie Pasta Bake
- No-Bake Birthday Cake Protein Bites
- Snickers Protein Bars

COOKING NOTES/TIPS

Buy pre-cooked protein for your bowls if it saves you time.

Use leftover food from your dinners as lunch the next day!

KEEPING AN EYE ON MACRONUTRIENTS?

Each recipe displays the grams of each macronutrient per serving, as well as a chart that shows the breakdown of calories from each macronutrient.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. For the chicken, rub each chicken breast thoroughly with Cajun seasoning.
2. In a large non-stick skillet, heat olive oil on medium-high heat. Once hot, add the chicken breasts and cook for 8 minutes until well-browned on one side. Flip each piece and cook on the second side until browned and the internal temp is 165° F.
3. Transfer the chicken to a clean cutting board and allow it to rest for at least five minutes (this is important!). Slice and set aside.
4. For the sauce, heat olive oil in a small skillet and sauté the garlic until fragrant and soft. Transfer into a blender.
5. In a large stock pot, bring 4 cups chicken broth to a boil. Add the cauliflower and cook, covered, until tender (about 8 minutes). Do not drain.
6. Transfer the cauliflower and about 1 cup of the hot broth into the blender, along with salt, pepper, milk and Parmesan cheese. Blend until smooth.
7. Toss the hot alfredo sauce and sliced chicken with your favorite chickpea pasta. Top with fresh parsley and enjoy.

ROASTED PIZZA ZUCCHINI BOATS

INGREDIENTS

- 6 small zucchinis (8–9 inches long)
- 1 ¼ cup of pizza sauce
- 1 ½ cup of shredded mozzarella cheese
- ½ cup mini pepperoni slices
- ½ cup green pepper, chopped into small pieces
- ½ cup of mushrooms, chopped into small pieces
- ½ cup of red bell pepper, chopped into small pieces

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Preheat the oven to 450°F.
2. Prepare the zucchinis by slicing them in half, lengthwise, and hollowing out the seeds with a small spoon or tool to build a “boat” to hold the toppings. Don’t scoop out too much or the boats will sink, LOL. Arrange the zucchinis on a parchment or foil-lined baking sheet or in a large casserole dish.
3. Spoon pizza sauce into each boat, filling about ¾ full. The amount of sauce is going to vary a little, depending on the size of your zucchinis.
4. Top each zucchini with cheese and your desired toppings (we used mini pepperoni, green pepper, red pepper and mushrooms).
5. Bake for 12 minutes, then broil for 3–5 minutes at the end.
6. Top with whatever you like to sprinkle on top of your pizza, and enjoy!

NOTES

Customize this recipe with your favorite pizza toppings.

To ensure everything cooks evenly, the chopped vegetables should be cut into quite small pieces.

INGREDIENTS Crust

4 sheets of graham crackers, crumbled into a powder
(16 standard-size crackers)
1 scoop vanilla protein powder
3 tbsp almond butter
2–3 tbsp coconut oil, melted
¼ tsp salt

INGREDIENTS Cheesecake

3. In another bowl, mix all the cheesecake filling ingredients except the sprinkles until thoroughly combined.
4. Distribute the cheesecake mixture evenly into the muffin cups and spread gently with a spoon to shape the cakes.
