

CALIFORNIA CONSUMER PRIVACY ACT

Anytime Fitness Notice of Collection

This "Notice of Collection" sign is intended for you as an Anytime Fitness member or prospective member.

This means that it will be visible to you before any personal information is collected about you. If you have any questions about this notice, please reach out to Anytime Fitness at privacy@anytimefitness.com.

This notice of collection ("Notice") is intended for California residents in order to comply with Section 1798.100(b) of the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018, effective on January 1, 2020. To meet our obligations, Anytime Fitness needs to tell you about the (i) categories of personal information that we collect about you, and (ii) what we will do with this information. As such, please review the information below. Please note: We do not sell your personal information.

CATEGORIES OF PERSONAL INFORMATION WE COLLECT IN CLUB, ON OUR SITE AND THROUGH OUR APPS

- Contact Information such as your first name, last name, phone number, home address and email address
- Username and password for Anytime Fitness related accounts
- Membership information, including key FOB number, membership number
- Transaction history related to use of our clubs, purchases or other information you choose to share with us
- Fitness-related information provided in the membership process, such as your height, weight, general fitness-related goals or other information helpful to achieving your fitness goals
- Correspondence regarding your Anytime Fitness experience and activities
- Information provided by you when participating in surveys, advertising contests or sweepstakes
- Various account and profile information that allows you to update credit card, bank account or other payment information
- Certain sign on information you provide when you use third parties such as Facebook and Twitter to sign on to our platforms
- Computer data or files, often called "cookies" to allow our server to recognize you to improve your site experience
- Computer data files, often called "web beacons" collected from emails or links on third-party sites that allow our server to evaluate the popularity of those links and information
- Your IP address to measure our website traffic and to help provide a more personalized experience
- Certain location or geolocation information pulled directly from your mobile device, your wireless carrier or certain third-party providers, to allow tracking of your activity

WHAT WE DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

- Processing and updating your membership information, including personal information you provide, credit card information or other electronic payment processing
- Processing your billing information, which may be contracted to our third-party payment processing vendor
- Contacting you regarding services you have engaged in or with, including personal training or collection efforts
- Providing you with information regarding club locations nearest to you or certain information regarding your club
- Conducting marketing and research, through direct surveys to you, but also through franchise owner communication with you
- Providing you with information you have requested from corporate, club franchisees or their staff whom you have engaged with
- Developing and displaying content and advertising tailored to your interests and preferences
- Conducting contests and sweepstakes
- Sending you electronic communications you have requested, such as text messages, push notifications, notifications through our Apps or through your mobile device
- Providing you with updates and content based on your geo-location information you have provided to us
- Providing help with your fitness goals, such as encouragement on workouts, training schedules, recommended dietary changes, and other information to help you reach your fitness goals
- Contacting you regarding updates to the Site, Apps, or to provide administrative notices to you

Privacy Notice for California Residents: For additional information, please visit our Privacy Notice for California Residents at: www.anytimefitness.com. You may also view the Privacy Notice for California Residents in paper form at your local Anytime Fitness.