

GOAL SETTING CONVERSATION

GOALS: What needs to be accomplished

COMPETENCIES:
What behaviors are needed to support the goals

Employee Shares their Goals

Manager Adds to the Goals

1. Manager Asks: “What are the most important things that you will accomplish this year?” • Employee shares • Manager listens • Managers checks off their list • Manager reinforces	2. Manager Adds: “I also think that you should accomplish...” • Manager explains why they want to include the addition • Manager is specific about what success would look like • Manager shares impact & importance of this goal
3. Manager Asks: What 5 competencies are most important for you to master, in order to be successful in your job?” • Manager listens • Talk about each of the competencies. • Share your perspective • Ask: “How do you think you’re demonstrating that competency today?”	4. Manager Adds something the employee didn’t consider: “How about [insert behavior]? How do you think you’re demonstrating that competency today?” • Manager asks for their viewpoint • Manager listens • Manager shares feedback on how they view the employee in this competency • Manager and employee keep this on their radar during future 1:1 meetings
